LOCAL GATHERINGS

The property at 28 Central street, owned by the Union Baptist Society has been sold to George A. North, E. Dow of St. Johnsbury Center. The sale was closed Tuesday afternoon. During recent years the buildings were used as the Free Will Baptist parsonage, and years ago it was known as the Newell Harlow property. Since the union of the two Baptist societies, the house has been occupied by Mrs. W. D. Wilcomb, who will continue to reside there.

A. C. Leclerc, John Brodion and J. A. Letourneau, successful mid-winter anglers, returned Thursday from a few hours' stay at Mud Pond near Peacham, with a large string of pickerel and perch. More than two-thirds of the string were of the former variety, a number of them measuring 18 inches. In all there were about 40 of the finny tribe brought back. Although mud by name, by the time the fishermen had their lines sunk they were inclined to think the pond was ice.

Mrs. Jennie Herbert entertained the W. C. T. U. at her home Saturday afternoon. The usual business meeting was held, followed by a social hour. Temperance readings were given from the reports in the Signal, of the National superintendent of legislation, Mrs. Margaret Dye Ellis, whose headquarters are at Washington, D. C.

Plans were discussed Sunday at a meeting of the committee of District Helpers of the North Congregational church, for the increased usefulness of the members. The members of the committee are: Mrs. Carl D. Hovey, Mrs. Anna D. Pearl, Mrs. H. P. Rice, Mrs. L. P. Leach, Mrs. John A. Beck, Mrs. May E. Heath, Mrs. Z. S. Waterman, Mrs. George E. Woodard, Mrs. R. E. French, Mrs. J. E. Cook, Mrs. Ralph E. Hovey and Mrs. A. R. Brooks. The sewing meeting of the Woman's association will be held at the home of Mrs. George H. Cross on Church street, Friday at two o'clock.

Many automobiles are being shipped from factories in the middle west to distributing points in New England are passing through St. Johnsbury on their journey south. Nearly every day flat cars are seen in the yards on which are machines of all makes and styles, fully equipped. They are well packed and covered and covered with heavy canvas tarpaulins. Monday six cars loaded with 12 large seven-passenger passed through.

An exhibit of an English shrapnel shell and of a Russian armor piercing bullet, which were in Brown's cigar store is causing quite a lot of interest. A cross section of the timer and mechanism for exploding the shrapnel shell is also shown together with a pipe jar made from the end of a shell. Both the shrapnel and the armor piercing are the same as many of those in use every day on the front in Europe.

The pool and card tournament being held by the members of the Knights of Columbus is nearly finished, the final games being played Saturday, February 3, according to the terms of the tournament. The banquet following the tournament has been set for February 12.

The Knybbles were entertained at the home of Miss Katherine Gray on Portland street, Friday evening. A large number of the winter cars present and a pleasant social time enjoyed. Refreshments were served by the hostess.

Mrs. C. R. Lynch entertained the members of the Birthday Club at her home, 96 Railroad street, Thursday evening. Three tables of whist were set. Mrs. Lora Harvey was the first prize and to Mrs. Elizabeth Stee was awarded the consolation prize. Refreshments were served during the evening by the hostess.

A company of ten young ladies were entertained Thursday evening by Miss Dorothy Simmons and Miss Amy Bartlett at the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. R. Young at 16 Main street. A pleasant social time was enjoyed and refreshments were served by the hostesses.

Kenneth Daniels celebrated his eleventh birthday Wednesday afternoon by holding a supper party for a few of his young friends at the home of his parents in Arlington.

St. Margaret's Guild of St. Andrew's church will meet in the parish rooms Thursday evening at 7.30 to work for the war relief.

A. F. Lawrence & Son have just finished filling the ice house of the St. Johnsbury House, 225 tons, 18 inch average, exceptionally good, but on Matthew Fleming's pond, known as Fairbanks pond. They have also filled 18 private houses in the village and vicinity and are now filling the annual supply for Brightlook hospital.

W. R. C. WHIST PARTY

Fourteen Tables Filled at Social in G. A. R. Hall Thursday Evening

Grand Army hall was the scene of a merry party Thursday evening when play was started at fourteen tables in the whist party and social held by the Woman's Relief Corps. At the close of play, and following the serving of refreshments, dancing took up the social hours that followed until midnight. First ladies' prize won by Mrs. Lorraine Munsey, consisted of a half dozen china cups and saucers. Mr. Southard received a box of cigars as a reward for the high score, while Mrs. Oscar Cummings and John Tinkler received consolation prizes.

Miss Thelma Ayers and Mrs. Ollie Browne played the piano for dancing. The committee in charge of the entertainment was Mrs. Mabel Ellis, Mrs. Lora Spaulding, Mrs. Henry Battles, Mrs. Fred Ayers, Mrs. Oscar Cummings and Mrs. Martha Brownlow.

Accompianist for Kreiser.

The old friends who remember with pleasure the family of Rev. Charles M. Lamson, pastor of the North church for a number of years, read with interest that the youngest son, Carl Lamson, played the piano accompaniment for Kreiser at the concert in Burlington, Friday evening. Mr. Lamson has been accompanied for the great violinist for a number of years.

MANY ATTEND RECITAL

Pupils of Miss Ella Brownell Entertain in Academy Hall.

Many interested friends attended the recital given by the pupils of Miss Ella M. Brownell at the Academy hall on Saturday evening. The program opened with two numbers, (a) "Kontra Tanz" by Gade, Mrs. Joseph "Warum" by Shumann, given by the Krambohnoff Trio, and was followed with songs by Fred Lougee, Beatrice Howe, Stanton Harris, Charles Branch Dorothy Adams, Claude Hinman and Bessie McEnroe.

A selection by eight members of the boys' glee club completed the first part of the program. All the numbers were well rendered and enthusiastically received.

The second part of the program was devoted to the Cantata, "The Lady of Shalott." This well known poem of Tennyson was read by Mrs. Joseph Fairbanks, previous to its rendition by the Academy girls' glee club. It has been beautifully set to music by Wilfred Bendall, and the choruses were given with a spirit and expression that elicited much favorable comment and applause.

The solos in the cantata were creditably sung by Lila Gillilan, Marjorie Cramton and Maude Blaisdell. Eunice McGillivray proved her ability as an accompanist both for the solos, and in the cantata, the duets, and the accompaniment of which she played in a most efficient manner. The complete program was as follows:

1 (a) Kontra Tanz by Gade, (b) Warum by Schumann, Krambohnoff Trio; 2 "The Summer Wind" by Bischoff, Fred Lougee; 3 (a) "Ashes of Roses" by Wood, (b) "Sleepy Time" by Collins, Beatrice Howe; 4 "Sunset Glow" by Metcalf, Stanton Harris; 5 (a) "The Valley of Laughter" by Anderson, (b) "Banjo Song" by Homer, Charles Branch; "The Land of the Sky-Blue Water" by Cadman, Dorothy Adams; 7 "For You Alone" by Geel, (b) "Uncle Rome" by Homer, Claude Hinman; 8 (a) "O Fair, O Sweet and Holy" by Cantor, (b) "Deep in a Rose's Glowing Heart" by Nevin, Bessie McEnroe; obligatos by Marjorie Cramton and Katherine Benton.

Part 2. Cantata "The Lady of Shalott," the poem by Alfred Tennyson and the music by Wilfred Bendall Girls' Glee club; solos by Maude Blaisdell, Lila Gillilan and Marjorie Cramton; Eunice McGillivray, accompanist.

January Meeting of Women's Club.

The January meeting of the St. Johnsbury Woman's Club was held in Pythian Hall Wednesday afternoon, Jan. 24, at 2.30 p.m. At the business meeting, the report of the executive committee was read and the financial condition of the club and ways and means of bettering it were discussed. Mrs. W. A. Ricker reported for the special committee on the place of meetings for the remainder of the year. The executive committee for decision.

Mrs. Martha Simonds read resolutions on the death of Mrs. Maybell Howe.

Mrs. Edith Braley, chairman of the art committee then introduced Mrs. Beulah Brown, the daughter of Curtis who spoke on, "Modern Tendencies in Art."

Mrs. Adams said that each period reflects the characteristics of the times in art, calling attention to the lack of attention to details, no harmony, and the modern style of picture in modern pictures. She explained and showed many examples of art of the Impressionist, New Impressionist, Post Impressionist, Cubist and Futurist Schools. There were also many pictures of modern art which she explained and showed in a very interesting and interesting manner.

The social committee served tea and a pleasant social hour was enjoyed at the close of the meeting.

Snow Shoe Club Starts 1917 Season

The Snow-shoe Club started off its season with a rush Wednesday night when the first game of the season drew out a large and merry bunch of hikers.

At 7.45 the bunch started from the Athenaeum for what was, if not the longest trip of recent years one of the most enjoyable. The night proved ideal in temperature, and the trampers brought back with them a keen appetite with which to do full justice to the oyster supper which awaited them in the dining room of a Grand Army hall.

At the conclusion of the feed the driving president, Jack Barker, called for order and officers of the club were elected for the ensuing year. Val Genge was unanimously chosen to the high office for 1917, and Ferdinand Townsend was elected treasurer. The new president appointed William Dimick and Bessie Daniels as the committee to arrange for the next tramp, which will be held in the near future.

A short talk by Alec Porter, one of the old members of the club, was called for, and he urged that the members boom the club during the season and make it the best year of its history.

Adjournment was taken to the main hall, where after a short initiation of a number of new members, dancing was enjoyed the remainder of the evening.

Washington, Jan. 25.—The apportionment of $10,000,000 to aid the states in the construction of rural post roads, the second annual distribution in accordance with the federal aid road law, was announced today by Secretary Houston of the Department of Agriculture. The funds are apportioned for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1918.

Vermont receives $45,688; New Hampshire $41,993; Maine $96,993 and Massachusetts $147,701.

SENT TO INDUSTRIAL SCHOOL

Boys Concerned With Petty Breaches During Summer Go to Vergennes.

Kenneth Benoit, aged 12, and Samuel Sivigny, 14 years old, have been committed to the State Industrial school at Vergennes for the remainder of their minority by the city authorities. They were taken to that place Friday morning by Deputy Sheriff Walter Carpenter.

Both boys have broken bounds a number of times after being placed on probation, and it becomes necessary to deal out summary punishment.

Both boys are concerned with a number of petty breaks in stores and offices during the past summer, and after being talked to by the officials were allowed to go in the custody of their parents.

Last Monday morning the Benoit boy gained entrance to the office of Henry Carr on Bay street, but was frightened away before he had taken anything. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. Alphonse Sivigny of Railroad street, and Mr. and Mrs. George Benoit of Pearl street.

WINTER SESSION ENDS

Judge Butler Adjourns Court for Term After Judgment for Plaintiff in Estabrooks-Morency Case

The Caledonian County Court case of Henry P. Estabrooks vs John A. Morency which was on trial from Tuesday noon was brought to a close at four o'clock Friday afternoon when judgment was rendered for the plaintiff to recover the sum of $199.18 and interest making a total of $246.20. At the close of this case Judge Butler adjourned court for the term.

This suit was brought March 4, 1916, when Estabrooks sued Morency for $3000. The specifications which Estabrooks filed in this case on April 11, 1916, covered seventeen pages and called for the sum of $1217.03. There were no credits on the specifications which covered a period of about 24 years, or from July 23, 1892 to Oct. 11, 1915.

On Estabrooks' journal No. 4, page 86, counsel for Morency, found an entry under date of November 16, 1897 as follows: "To cash to balance $0.83." This entry was in Estabrooks' handwriting and the court found that a general settlement then took place between the parties. The court also found that a final settlement took place on Oct. 27, 1908, when Estabrooks gave Morency a check for $4.18. This entry was in Estabrooks' handwriting indicating a settlement had taken place and was found by counsel for Morency on page 193 of journal No. 8. This settlement was signed by John Morency and his son, Benjamin Morency, and denied by Estabrooks. Alex. Dunnell of counsel for Estabrooks stated when the decision was rendered that he had no exceptions of value and that the case would not be taken to the Supreme Court. Alex. Dunnell and Chas. A. Shields were attorneys for Estabrooks and Guy W. Hill, counsel for Morency.

The case was a long and difficult one to try on account of the number of items involved and exhibits introduced. The plaintiff introduced 17 large books and other documentary evidence.

BAPTIST BROTHERHOOD MEET

Hon. Fred M. Butler Speaks on "Administration of County Courts"

The regular meeting of the Brotherhood of the Union Baptist church was held in the chapel Thursday evening. An interesting address was listened to, delivered by Hon. Fred M. Butler of Rutland, on "The Administration of County Courts." Hon. Alex. Clark also delivered an interesting address, and a beautiful supper that appealed to the men's appetite was served at 7 o'clock by some of the deaconesses of the church.

Judge Butler in his address on the courts, and with which he treated in an informal manner, dealt with the short of administering justice in the courts which were formerly under the jurisdiction of the supreme bench. He also led down to the establishment of the superior and lower courts that were eventually established, and illustrated his talk with cases of different kinds. Judge Butler further pointed out the importance of the appointment of men to the legislature. Many instructive points were brought up by the speaker that were of exceptional interest.

"They had often spoken. It is well, they had laid their burdens down, Long years did they bear the stern cross, But it fitted their brows for the crown. They may have forgotten 'em now, But that ever taught them to weep—Let us say while in sorrow we bow, 'Tis well they had laid 'em down."

"They had fallen asleep. Fold the robe O'er their dear hearts so pale and still, They lay down to their Father and rest, And our grief is His glory and will! The rest which He gives His beloved Is theirs, the untroubled and deep, And because we so loved them we say, 'It is well they had fallen asleep.'"

"They had fallen asleep. 'Tis well! They will not be weary again; We shall lay down beside them ere long, Then with them we'll lie down and sleep. We shall claim on the morn of our rising Victor palms which the Seraphim keep—Oh, what glory will crown the beloved, In Christ, who hath fallen asleep." M. M. G. D.
